Safe Rocking Features and Information

As with any toy, correct use is vital for safe enjoyment. Our Heirloom Rocking Horses have proper weight distribution and are correctly balanced. Their rockers and support mechanisms are durable enough to bear the child's weight during the rocking motion, now, and as your child grows. Handle bars are secure and easy to reach and grasp while rocking. Handy tow bars make it easy and to move the horses from room to room.

We have designed these horses to be highly stable during normal usage. The rounded rocker arrests resist the possibility of tipping over. However, forward and backward over-rocking should be avoided. The generous 15 ½ inch rocker width resists sideways tipping. Each rocking horse has a step-up platform to make it easy for the child to mount and dismount. All paints, stains and other finishes are lead-free and non-toxic.

Finally, safe rocking should always be done in an inside environment which is spacious enough to avoid bumping into objects. As always, adult supervision is recommended to ensure that the rocking horse is being used properly and that the rocking environment remains safe.
